WE CAN BE THE GENERATION THAT ENDS SLAVERY

In a progressive world, more globally interconnected and technologically advanced than ever before, it is difficult to comprehend that up to 45.8 million human beings are trapped in modern slavery. It is the greatest number of people in slavery than at anytime in history.

The Global Freedom Network is committed to eradicate modern slavery by engaging and uniting faith leaders around the world to take spiritual and practical action to eradicate modern slavery. We empower faith leaders to mobilise their efforts and work in collaboration with the private, public and civil sectors to end modern slavery.

This is set to change as the Global Freedom Network unites religious leaders from around the world to end modern slavery!
